SYNOPSIS: Duyung tells the tale of a young man named Jimmy who has a habit where he likes to keep the environment of his village clean since he was a child. However, Jimmy who has a weird personality, always getting scorned by the people in his village. Despite being the village's outcast, Jimmy has a best friend of his own named Orix, an ape that always hangs around him like a true friend. As a man who has feelings, Jimmy puts his mind on Aspalela.

One day, Jimmy went to Tok Mudim's house to propose to Aspalela but was opposed by Tok Mudim himself. He challenged Jimmy to have his own land if he wanted to marry his daughter. Finally jimmy with a bizarre idea and waste, he can make his own land but it is strange to him every time he wakes up all the trees become big and eventually the land becomes wide. It may have been Aspalela who helped him for his support. But after Jimmy had his own land Wak Pagek did not even accept it and was humiliated. The most successful young man in the corps was also a great way to marry Aspalela. The cord also hates Jimmy for always stopping him from catching fish. Jimmy's juggling cord cut Jimmy and married a mermaid alone and eventually fought so much that some of it was crashing.

Jimmy then repaired the island so much that the mermaids were caught in the rope. Finally, Jimmy and mermaids are good friends so Jimmy becomes a rich man from the gold award rather than a mermaid. Kordi feels bent and tries to investigate and eventually he can catch a mermaid.
