SYNOPSIS: Scientist Reed Richards (loan Gruffudd) persuades his arrogant former classmate, Victor von Doom (Julian McMahon), to fund his experiments with cosmic energy. On von Doom's space station, the crew -- including astronaut Ben Grimm (Michael Chiklis), researcher Sue Storm (Jessica Alba) and pilot Johnny Storm (Chris Evans) -- are exposed to a mysterious cosmic storm that bestows super powers upon them. As they cope with their transformations, von Doom vows his revenge.

Reed Richards, a brilliant but penniless physics researcher, and friend Ben Grimm seek out Richards' former MIT colleague-turned-Von Doom Industries CEO Victor Von Doom to invest in his project to research the arrival of a cosmic energy cloud that will pass near Earth. Von Doom, sensing a good investment, agrees and allows Richards the use of his space station to collect samples of the cloud. Accompanying the trio are Von Doom Industries employees Susan Storm, a genetic researcher (and Reed's old flame), and her younger brother, thrill-seeking ex-astronaut Johnny. However, during the course of the mission, a fatal miscalculation results in unsafe exposure to the effects of the cloud, leaving everyone on board with unpredictable symptoms.
