SYNOPSIS: In Europe, American high school students and crimefighters Kim Possible and Ron Stoppable have thwarted a world dominating scheme of Professor Dementor and rescued Dr. Glopman, whom Dementor had kidnapped.

As Kim and Ron start their first day of school, they meet a new student named Athena and take her on a mission to stop the plot of the evil Dr. Drakken. Athena (a skilled b?jutsuka) defeats Drakken's henchwoman Shogo, making her the topic of conversation at Middleton High School despite Kim's jealousy. When the school honors Athena and her good deed, Shogo and Drakken force their way into the ceremony. Kim tries to defeat Shogo and her army of henchwomen but falls to the ground, leaving Athena vulnerable to kidnap. Athena is kidnapped, and Kim is laughed at. After Kim talks with her family and Ron, they decide to rescue Athena from Drakken's and Shogo's lair.

At the lair, Kim discovers Athena is part of Drakken's and Shogo's plan to steal Kim's motivational essence and transfer it into Drakken with his brain-modulating device. Athena is revealed to be an android built by Drakken, specifically for this. As Kim short-circuits the transfer machine, Drakken is de-aged into a pre-adolescent version of himself. Despite Kim's insistence that she save herself, Athena stays behind to turn off the now-unstable machine. The lair explodes and Athena is presumed killed, but it is revealed that she has survived the explosion. Kim and Ron take her home to be repaired and programmed to be a hero alongside themselves.

During the credits, Drakken, posing as a gifted student with Shogo posing as his mother, enrolls at Kim's school and begins his plan to defeat her.
