RSSocial! V1.1.4 Extension For Joomla 3

Are you advertising your website on multiple social networks? If you do, you probably want to group the links to these networks together in a single spot on your website's frontend, and have them easily managed in the backend.

We've got the perfect, completely free solution for you: the RSSocial! module, our latest extension, was created to offer you a more effective and stylish way to link to your profile pages on the most popular networks of our time. The module is highly customizable in terms of look and feel and can be displayed on multiple types of template positions.
